

Peter T. McKeen
Adjunct Professor
University of Virginia, Procurement and Contracts Management

pm9z@virginia.edu

Peter McKeen offers a unique perspective on public procurement issues through his work as an adjunct professor in the Procurement and Contracts Management program at the University of Virginia and his experience as a procurement analyst in the legal industry. Mr. McKeen performs research and analysis on the full spectrum of contract award, administration and procurement law issues as a procurement analyst and applies this experience and perspective in teaching the U.S. public procurement workforce. Mr. McKeen's approach to lecturing combines key academic theories and concepts related to the study of public procurement, with the practical aspects of successful acquisition planning, award and administration.

EDUCATION:

M.A., International Affairs, The George Washington University

B.A., Political Science, The University of Southern Maine

Certificate in Procurement and Contracts Management, University of Virginia

SELECTED PUBLICATIONS, PAPERS AND ARTICLES:

M. E. Giboney and P. T. McKeen, Federal Procurement Law for the Contracts Professional (2014)

M. E. Giboney and P. T. McKeen, Capstone Course Topics In Federal Procurement, (SMG 2011)

The Importance Of A Professionally Educated Public Procurement Workforce: Lessons Learned From The U.S. Experience, in G. M. Racca, C. R. Yukins (ed. By) Integrity And Efficiency In Sustainable Public Contracts, (Bruylant 2014)

SBA Issues Final Rule on Small Business Size Recertification, November, 2006

Federal Agency Mentor-Protégé Programs Offer Participants Subcontracting and Joint Venture Opportunities, co-authored with Richard Duvall, August 2004

Improper OCI Certification Ruled a False Claim by Fourth Circuit, co-authored with David Black, August 2004

GSA Method of Lowering Industrial Funding Fee May Adversely Impact Schedule Contractor Pricing, October 2003